

Valero and Meals on Wheels volunteers join together for a shopping spree at Ling & Sons

The annual shopping spree sponsored by Valero that will provide fifty-five needy families with a memorable holiday season was conducted on Monday morning, December 18 at Ling & Son's Supermarket. For the third year in a row, Valero Volunteers performed the very pleasant shopping task of assisting twenty of the staff of "Meals on Wheels" San Nicolaas to fill their shopping carts with all the things needed to provide a special Christmas dinner to the less fortunate.

Wearing their Santa hats and ready to go, they were personally assisted by owner Ingrid Ling, who made sure they received everything they required. Several carts had already been filled, according to a list of their specifications, before the "Meals on Wheels" people arrived in a bus provided by De Palm Tours, saving them shopping time. Nevertheless, it is a pleasant task to fill a cart with food for the needy, and so they made their way around the huge market, soon acquiring in goods the 10,000 florins that the Valero Refinery Aruba donated.

"Somebody is hungry!" noted a customer of the market when looking over the dozens of carts filled with food and other goods, but thanks to Valero and "Meals on Wheels," they won't go hungry this Christmas!
